User Group News--Safari Books Online Offer

News Description :

Safari Books Online is an on-demand digital library providing over 6,500 technology and creative professional books from the world's leading publishers. With Safari Books Online, you can find the answers you need in seconds. Safari Books Online provides sophisticated search capability that allows you to find all the material available on a given topic--such as C#, Java, Python programming, web design, mobile development or project management --and allows you to browse chapters and information from multiple sources on one user-friendly platform. Even read mobile-friendly books on your cell phone or mobile device! Safari Books Online is excited to announce new product offerings for their customers in India. And now, for a limited time, Safari Books Online is extending a special 15% off offer to our Indian User Groups. Sign up for a 5-slot Bookshelf account today for the very low price of USD $8.50 per month for the first year! With the Safari 5-slot Bookshelf, you can search the entire library for information you need, and read up to 5 books a month. Each month you can change these books for new ones. To redeem this offer, visit my.safaribooksonline.com/subscribe, choose any monthly subscription type, enter coupon code TUBZWWA. This offer is only good through June 30, 2009 and is good for 15% off the first 12 billing cycles. Don't miss this opportunity to improve your skills and make yourself more valuable at work. Sign up today.
