I am attending Adobe Summit. Aug,2010

News Description :

In keeping pace with the historic transformation that is sweeping the world of development and design, Adobe DevSummit has now morphed into Adobe Flash Platform Summit (AFPS). Your plug in to the web, AFPS recognizes the blurring dynamic of the designer/developer workflow, and features the latest developments on the Adobe Flash Platform that is of utmost importance to both developers, as well as designers. Based on the overarching theme Functional Intent Meets Pixel Perfection, AFPS 2010 will feature a convergence of thousands of developers and designers, Adobe community members and Adobe teams from across the sub-continent, a diverse set of topics ranging from the more technical Flash, Flex, AIR and processing to pure design, mobile, and the coolest and best the industry has to offer.
